

If you are claiming support for a child who is the "age of majority" or older, you must include Form 12. The "age of majority" in New Brunswick is 19. Include a separate Form 12 for each child who is 19 or older.

The child support guidelines apply to children. When a 'child' is over the age of majority the court needs information to show that the child depends on the parents for support.

Who will use Form 12?

If you are the person receiving or asking to receive support for the child, you are the recipient. You will also fill out Form 7 and Form 11.

If you are the person paying support, or being asked to pay support for the child, you are the payor. You will also fill out Form 9 and Form 11.

Filling out the Child Status and Financial Statement Form 12 goes through the child's living arrangements, education, finances and employment, education expenses, and reasons why the child depends on the parents for support.

Begin by filling in the child's name and date of birth. Check whether you are the claimant or the respondent.

What information you should include is listed in each section. Using your working copy and read each section carefully. This is the evidence that the court will use to make an order. It is important that it be complete and accurate.

It is not likely that you will have all the information you need. You may have to get some of it from the child, or from other records. There are also other forms to fill out. Use the worksheet to make a list of documents you need to get, or things to do.

Form 12 is part of your evidence. You will sign it as claimant/applicant in the blank provided at the bottom of the form when you swear/affirm Form 1.
